Editor Outdoor Life:—I wouldn't miss a copy of Outdoor Life for three times the regular price. If I had only known years ago about your magazine, I would have been much happier. I ran on it by chance in the reading room of the Mishawaka Hotel, Mishawaka, Ind., and subscribed at once, and as long as I can see to read, I want to have it sent regularly. The department devoted to Arms and Ammunition is what I read first, and then every other word, including the ads. I hope you will live long and prosper.

W. B. DUFF.

La Grange, Ind., July 30, 1914.

Editor Outdoor Life:—Outdoor Life is the magazine "de luxe" among the sporting community. It is my intention to subscribe to it as long as I am able. Had I known of the existence of such a magazine years ago I should have subscribed then.

H. G. WHITCOMBE.

Mocatoa, New Zealand.

Send Him Outdoor Life for Christmas

This solves the problem. A year's subscription to his favorite sportsman's magazine will give him more pleasure than any remembrance you can send to father, son, husband or friend. Send in your orders now and we will send them beautifully embossed Christmas cards, with your name as the sender, at the proper time. Subscription, $1.50 a year in the United States, its possessions, and Mexico; $1.75 in Canada; $2.00 foreign
